everything to work
together for the good of those who love God.

-Romans 8:28

STAFF BLURB

Hey! My name is Hollie and I work as the Administrative Assistant at F Street and also the Office Manager at Atlas: Lincoln. I grew up in central Nebraska in a small town (a village actually). I went to a college in Papillion, NE which got me connected to Pastor Bill (who was one of my college professors). While I was looking for internships in Lincoln, Bill's name came up and that's how I got connected to F Street. Since my father's passing (I was 15), family became a big part of my story. While I have been working at F Street, I noticed that we hit on every age group, walk of life, but nothing necessarily dedicated to families. I felt God place this on my heart through various actions and words spoken to me. So, with the great support from the staff, I decided to start a Family Ministry at F Street. While it still is in the "baby stages," I am excited to see how F Street can better help parents and families connect to Jesus and to each other!

MEMORY VERSE DEVO

It is sometimes hard to believe that God is good even when bad things happen. We may ask our selves, "how is God good when I don't get what I want?" Or "what is good about a special loved one dying?" All sorts of things can make us question the goodness of God. BUT, the Bible does not tell us that following God will cause everything in our lives to be good. He does promise that He will use all things, good and bad, to bring everything together according to His plan—which the ultimate GOOD thing!

If we love God and follow Him, we have a greater promise than the good things in life. We can look forward to heaven, His perfect kingdom, where every wrong will be made right! So, even when our circumstances look gloomy and hopeless, we can always trust that God is using it to accomplish His work. We can find great peace when we remember that truth during hard times.

FEEDBACK FROM YOU!

We are wanting to hear from you, parents, about how to better equip you as spiritual leaders and parents, and how we can walk alongside you as we build up the next generation of leaders!
